Start Define Requirements This step involves gathering and documenting the requirements for the app. Designing the overall architecture of the app, including its structure and components. Design App Architectur Develop App Code and Debug and Refine Writing the code for the app based on the design specifications. Testing the app to ensure all features work as intended. if its true it proceeds to the next step if its false back to Dev team to Debug and Refine False True Test App Functionality Deploying the app to the production environment. Deploy App Monitoring the app's performance and maintaining its stability and Monitor and Maintain Collecting feedback from users on the app's usability and Gather Feedback performance. Making updates and enhancements to the app based on user feedback. Implement Updates This marks the end of the development cycle. End PBhan -Manager's signature : _ 2024/02/26 Date: ___